

Kathleen Barnett Bio

I am a passionate supporter of the wildlife charity "Born Free", founded by the actress Virginia McKenna. Since retiring from the University of Hull, where I worked in the library, my husband and I have raised over £10,000 for the charity by presenting talks to local groups about its work worldwide to rescue animals from appalling conditions in captivity and to protect animals in the wild. I do not represent "Born Free" officially or work for the charity, but my entire fee is donated to them.
