

Paul Mann Bio

Paul taught for 18 years including in Nigeria, Hull, Middle East and Finland. He then retrained to work in the computer industry in 1990, including for BT Laboratories. He was interested in renovating old houses and from this became interested in History, completing a degree in Local History in 2017 He is now retired and continues researching and teaching aspects of Local History.