

Description of life in lockdown.

As far as Zoom is concerned, we zoom every Saturday night (family all live a fair distance away from us) and it is great to see all of our children and grandchildren and hear all their news. We have been known to spend a couple of hours quizzing on zoom with each family setting a number of questions - hilarious on occasion.

I don't know what we would have done without the garden to occupy us. The weather has been wonderful for the most part and we have enjoyed weeding, pruning, planting, chatting to the neighbours over the hedge and finally enjoying a glass wine together in the garden as the sun has gone down!

Having a weekly delivery of groceries has been a Godsend.

Sue Jessen.